The Way We Affect Others

We may not always realize that everything we do, affects not only our lives, but touches others too. A single happy smile can always brighten up the day, for anyone who happens to be passing by your way. And a little bit of thoughtfulness that shows someone you care, creates a ray of sunshine for both of you to share. Yes, every time you offer someone a helping hand, every time you show a friend that you understand, every time you have a kind and gentle word to give, you help someone to find beauty in this precious life we live. For happiness brings happiness and loving ways bring love, and giving is the treasure that contentment is made of.

Worry is the interest paid by those who borrow trouble.
Worry is stewing without doing.
Worry is like a rocking chair—it will give you something to do, but won't get you anywhere.
Sleepless is the man who is too busy to worry in the daytime and too sleepy at night.
Sign in a business executive's office: "The fellow who worried yesterday about tomorrow isn't here today!"
Worry doesn't empty the day of its trouble, but only its strength.
If you cannot help worrying, remember that worrying can't help you either.
A person can't change the past by worrying, but he sure can ruin a perfectly good present worrying about the future. You can avoid a lot of sorrow if you'll work today and worry tomorrow
