Reflection

Scaffolding

Masons when they start upon a building
Are careful to test the scaffolding.
Make sure that planks won't slip at busy points.
Secure all ladders, tighten bolted joints.
And yet all this comes down when the job is done,
Showing off walls of sure and solid stone.
So if, my dear, there sometimes seem to be old bridges breaking between you and me,
Never fear, we may let the scaffolds fall
Confident that we have built our wall.

Take nothing for the journey. Luke 9.3

It would be very imprudent when going on a journey that we don't make adequate provisions for our requirements. What is really meant by Christ's exhortation to the disciples 'Take nothing for the journey' to dispel the notion that we must be absolutely secure, successful and sheltered from the hazards of life. Much of our time is spent taking proper care of our livelihoods, employments and well being. We want to make sure that we have enough for ourselves and our families. The strong consumerism of modern day society forces our standards of living to another level. It is all too easy to become entangled in the things that are passing - material things. However we can easily fall into the trap of building bigger and better barns for our security. But then we have to keep in mind that these are transient things. Today's scripture readings reminds us that we need to keep our priorities correct and at the centre of our attention. We are called to use generously the goods of this life rather than hoarding up wealthy possessions some of which we don't need. While it may hurt to use sparingly, our resources keep us in shape for the purpose in life which really counts. Recent times and current developments are calling on us to cherish the gifts of nature and environment - they are God's gift that provide for everyone on earth. One of the most relevant scandals is the unequal distribution of the goods of the earth especially when we know that almost one-third of the population of the world are living in need and are subject to the greed of others. We are all called to examine our attitudes especially when we are so much concerned about the plight of the poor and marginalised who have equal rights to the goods of the earth.
