Reflection

On many a long day I have grieved over lost time.

But my time is never lost, O Lord.

You take every moment of my life into your hands.

Hidden at the heart of things, you are nourishing seeds and sprouts.

You nourish buds into blossom, and blossoms into fruitfulness.

While I was sleeping through the long night,

It seemed that all work and labour had ceased.

But when I woke up in the morning I found that my garden was full with wondrous flowers.

The Wonder of Life:

Donal Walsh, the sixteen-year-old boy from Kerry who died from cancer in 2013, after a four-year struggle with the disease, lived hope every day in spite of his illness. It was his plea to those who contemplated taking their lives by suicide that had the greatest impact. He wrote: 'Life is precious. I was given no choice, no say in the matter; yet I hear teenagers talking of suicide as a way to solve their problems. I know I would give anything for a few more months of life on this planet; I urge you to appreciate what you have, to know that you have other options than taking your own life, and realise that help is always there'.

To make you Smile:

At the end of the tunnel, there is just enough light to show you where the next tunnel begins.

TEACHER'S PRAYER

Lord, may I be a teacher both knowledgeable and kind Help me to encourage each young and growing mind May my faith be evident in all I say and do As I share the many lessons that I have learned from you.

Amen.
