BIODIVERSITY is the buzz word of the year but what does it mean and what can we do about it. One solution is to plant trees to reduce our carbon footprint. At Glenamaddy Community Garden we have 500 native woodland trees to plant. Can you help us. Don't just talk about Climate Change, do something about it. Come and plant one tree or ten trees in Ballyhard eircode F45FK57 on Good Friday 29th March at 10am. Why? Because you can make a difference. Wear strong shoes and bring a spade. Refreshments will be provided. A Horticulturist will be on site to provide a demonstration and advice. We would love you to help with this project.
